National Archives and Records Service

Opening of the Nixon White House Special Files

Notice is hereby given that, in accordance with Section 104 of Title I of the Presidential Recordings and Materials Preservation Act (88 Stat.
1695; 44 U.S.C. 2107 note) and § 105-63.401(b) of the General Services Administration implementing regulations (41 CFR 105-63), this agency has identified, inventoried, and prepared for public access an integral file segment of textual materials among the Nixon Presidential materials in the custody of the National Archives and Records Service. The National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, intends to make this file segment available to the public on or after September 26, 1983.

The file segment, known as the White House Special Files, consists of 628 cubic feet of textual materials that were placed under the protective custody and control of the Special Files Unit during the Presidency of Richard M. Nixon. The Special Files Unit was a unique filing organization within the White House that was established in 1972 to provide a central storage location for materials perceived as sensitive. The criteria for inclusion of materials into the Special Files encompassed specific categories of files that warranted special care and handling. The selection of materials by the Special Files Unit focused mainly on political matters and, therefore, the documents do not completely reflect major domestic or foreign policy issues of the Nixon administration. The Special Files document aspects of the Nixon administration from January 20, 1969, to August 9, 1974.

This file segment is comprised of portions of two major bodies of Presidential materials: Staff Member and Office files; and selected subjects from the Confidential Files of the White House Central Files. In addition, the President's Office Files and the President's Personal Files are included in their entirety. Listed below are the file groups that constitute the Special Files list.

Public access to some of the items in this integral file segment will be restricted as outlined in § 105-63.402 of the implementing regulations.

Any person who believes it necessary to bar public access to all or portions of the above materials to protect an individual's rights, privileges, or defenses, shall notify the Administrator of General Services in writing of the objection and claimed right, privilege, or defense. The petition to the Administrator should be made in accordance with section 105-63.401 of the implementing regulations and should be sent to the Administrator, General Services Administration, Washington, D.C. 20405, and should be received on or before September 12, 1983. Envelopes should be clearly marked "Presidential Materials Public Access Appeal."

Dated: August 4, 1983.
